Lots of enjoyments All Year Round

Shimada, with its mild climate, is full of colorful flowers all year round, starting with plum blossoms in February, followed by cherry blossoms, peony flowers, young tea buds, roses and colorful autumn leaves. "Shimada Big Festival" (Obi Festival) a special event held every three years that began over three centuries ago in 1695. You may enjoy the atmosphere of the past and the spectacular gaiety.

Kanaya Green Tea Festival

This festival is held to express growers' gratitude to tea in early April when new tea buds begin to grow. The dance by 1,000 women in traditional tea-picking costume is quite impressive. Together with pulling Yatai floats and enjoying Kawagoshi drum performance, this festival welcomes the first tea of the season.

Held in early April (every two years)

Bara-no-Oka Rose Festival ①

Various events including a sale of roses, seminars how to raise roses and concerts

Held at Bara-no-Oka Park in May and October

Shimada Mage Festival

It is believed that the traditional Shimada mage hairstyle was first designed by Toragozen, an entertainer who appeared in an old story, Soga Monogatari. About 60 women in the traditional hairstyles dance and give ritual services for their hair at Udaji Temple.

Held on the 3rd Sunday in September

Shimada Big Festival (Obi Festival)

Starting in 1695, this festival is now widely known for its parade of daimyo feudal lords, Kashima dance performers and portable shrines stroll along the old Tokaido Way. The greatest attraction is the 25 Oyakkos, Shrine's guardians, walk in a parade, wearing traditional costumes with the gorgeous obi sashes hang on the wooden swords on both sides of their waist.

Held in mid-October for three days every three years

Kashima Dance

Starting with the wish of warding off the epidemic while constructing the Kasuga Shrine on the Oi Shrine's premise, when the plague was rampant throughout Shimada in the late 17th century.

Held in mid-October during the Shimada Big Festival (Obi Festival)

Strolling along the Oi River and the Old Tokaido Way

People have lived along the Oi River since ancient times. In the Edo period, both Shimada and Kanaya, located on each bank of the river, played key roles as post stations along the old Tokaido Way and subsequently the local culture flourished. Strolling around the old streets will take you back in long ago days.

Horai bashi Bridge ②

Horai bashi Bridge was originally built for agricultural use in 1879 by the farmers who cultivated Makinohara Heights. It then began to be used as a community bridge connecting Hatsukura and Shimada. Nowadays, this toll bridge solely for pedestrians and bicyclists has become one of Shimada's main tourist spots. With a length of 897.4 meters (approx. 0.6mile) and width of 2.4 meters (approx. 8feet) Horai bashi Bridge is listed in the Guinness Book of Records as the world's longest wooden footbridge. It creates a fantasy world when it is lit up at night. A tea shop called "897.4 (Yakunashi) Chaya tea house" opened at the foot of the bridge in 2018. This tea house offers Shimada's quality tea and various local products.

Stone Pavements ③ of the Old Tokaido Way

The hilly Kanaya and Kikugawa slopes presented challenging walks for old Tokaido travelers during the Edo period. A 430-meter-long stretch of stone pavement of the Kanaya slope was restored by Kanaya residents in 1991. A 611-meter-long (approx.0.4mile) part of the old Kikugawa hill road discovered in 2000 is now designated as a prefectural cultural property.

The stone pavements were originally from embedded to prevent from slipping.

Enjoying Green Tea

Green tea offers a lot to enjoy beautiful color and rich aroma and flavor.

Being a major green tea production site, Shimada provides visitors with chances to enjoy high quality tea, looking at the blanket of tea fields, tasting the different types of local tea and enjoying tea-flavored sweets and dishes.

Tea from Shimada, Kanaya and Kawane

There are three green tea producing sites in Shimada: Shimada, Kanaya and Kawane. Green tea from mountainous areas is regular sencha and that from Makinohara Heights is deeply steamed sencha. Each offers a distinctive aroma and flavor. Try and enjoy the variety of fine local green tea.

Access: Tea Museum, Shizuoka
3053-2 Kanayafujimi-cho, Shimada City

Green Tea Plantations ⑥ in Makinohara Heights

A vast carpet of green tea fields covers the land of Makinohara Heights on the West and south sides of the Oi River. After the fall of the Shogunate government in the 1860s, this land was developed by former Tokugawa followers and Oi river crossing coolies into Japan's biggest tea plantation area. The gorgeous view of Mt. Fuji from the field one of the most popular scenes in Shizuoka Prefecture.

Makinohara Park ⑦

The Kanaya-Shimada townscape and Oi-River are blessed with sweeping views of Mt. Fuji, Suruga Bay, Izu Peninsula and the Southern Alps in the distance. In Makinohara Park there is a statue of the tea ceremony master Eisai Zenji, recognized for his contribution to the history of the tea drinking culture in Japan. Further, from late March to early April fawn lilies, city's natural treasure, bloom in bright clusters on the park slopes. The night view from Makinohara Park is also registered as "Japan Night View Scenic Heritage".
